features?

Then his brother disappeared and he found him as a monster.

And Now he goes on some magical adventures to fight monsters like his brother.

What I Feel

By Jhordyn Maldando Barrientos, Fifth Grade

I feel thankful for the people out there working hard every day for us. I feel so thankful for my step dad. He has been working very hard to keep the family going.

I feel sad that some people don't have that much money and not much food.

I feel happy that we kids can still continue our learning at home. That I can help the poor and enjoy more time with my family, reading, writing, math, science, studying and having fun.

And finally I feel that there's hope. I feel so much hope that it will all be over and everything goes to normal again till that day comes. I will be doing my best to help.

Basketball

By Carter Lee, Fifth Grade

Basketball is very exciting
But it could be a little biting
If you're with a good teamwork
So you won't be blurred
So all work together
And teamwork will stay forever

Butterflies

By.Cassandra De La Cruz, 5th Grade

Dust of Snow

By:Aidan Doerr, Grade 5

It sprinkles down light as a feather

When lands you don't hear a sound

It really is some kind of weather
Then it land right on the ground

If you didn't see it you would never know

About the magic that just happened

It was the dust of snow.

By Ryan Rupell 5th Grade

Dust Snow
Soft like a blanket
Cold as ice
A little trickle
Running down your back

As your best friend
Sends the dust of snow
Right down your back.

Dust of Snow

By:Brooke Flora, 5th Grade

I stepped outside.
And what did I see?
But a dusting of snow
On top of a tree!

It wasn't much snow.
In fact, just a bit
But oh my I am happy
I must admit.

Snow makes me so cheerful.
As I watch the birds fly,
I begin to think that
There's more than meets the eye.

DUST OF SNOW

Varun Phadke, 5th grade

The trees are swaying to the beat
As I am gliding on my feet
I walk across the frozen lake,
I can't stand up for goodness sake!
Slip Slide Slip Slide
I see a tree right in my way
Oh No! I thought
What shall I do?
Who will help me, tell me who?
I jumped up high,
The down I went
Right into some sort of dent.
CRASH!
But it was the tree that I had feared,
As I thought the end had neared.
But, there was something
I did not know
Cause, down came a dust of snow.

Not bad

Fantastic Fifth Grade Selections

By Jonah Roppe, Fifth Grade

One night at 9:30 I was awake then there was a soft rumble then a crash that sounded like an explosion, It woke everyone in the house. "What was that?" I asked "I don't know" my mom said. None of us knew what was going on. My parents went outside to see if they could find out what had happened but all they found was a car that had broken glass on the light and no one in it. Then they came back in my dad said, "we couldn't find anything, but we'll look more in the morning ." I was nervous but eventually I fell asleep.

The next morning we forgot about the noise It was a normal day until the afternoon when my dad called me from outside the house, "come look at this" he said pointing to the electric box. It was moved from its stand with exposed wires coming out of the bottom of the box "I think this caused the noise" said my dad. So he called the electric men and the morning they built a new one and I learned not to jump to conclusions.

Cats

by Sara Russell, Grade 5

Sniff sniff cat comes running
For a belly rub.
Then comes the neighbors dog
To make the cat go in.
The cat goes on a windowsill
To soak up a last bit of sun.
Curls up and melts in Cat nap time!

Meet the McMeatballs

By: Nathan Kramer

Grade: 5

Meet the McMeatballs. They have two wonderful children named Max and Matt McMeatball. Max was the kid who wore only his superhero costume to school for the longest time, and Matt became self-isolated in his room, and played something called "Deltarune".

Mildred and Michael McMeatball were the loving parents who somehow let all of this happen, and as you can see, are not the brightest people on the planet earth. Let's dive a little bit deeper into this family tree, okay? Okay. So, Michael McMeatball has two siblings, Mason and Megan McMeatball. Mason McMeatball spent all of his college funds on a coconut and a didgeridoo.

Megan McMeatball graduated from Harvard and she dropped out because she wanted to sell iPhones for Apple, and then quit because she wanted to get paid overtime, and now she works at subway, the subway that serves sandwiches. She works 39 hours a week, one hour below the overtime pay requirements.

Well this has been a fun journey, hasn't it? But we're not done here yet, we still need to mention Mary and Maddox McMeatball, the proud parents of Michael, Megan, and Mason McMeatball.

Maddox McMeatball was a proud business owner, but then he spent all of his money on shoes for his wife, and he went out of business.

Mary McMeatball was the person who was very mean to everyone and got them kicked out of the state of New Jersey.

Well, that's all the McMeatballs. Thanks for sticking around, and I hope you enjoyed "Meet the McMeatballs!"

Butterfly

By: Jhordyn Maldonado Barrientos, Fifth Grade

For like a butterfly I like to run and play. Someday like a butterfly you'll have to set me free.
I will spread my wings and fly away to my new life awaits. To fly away without any regrets.

Sadness

By Toren Sutherland
Grade 5

You are meaningless.
You know of nothing except the darkness that surrounds you.
You are all alone.
You were never loved.
People despise you.
You are sad.

Dust of Snow

By Jasmine Butcher

The way the snow ball
Hit my face
The dust of snow
Left there to taste

I throw a snowball at my brother ducked and then
I ran for cover

Champion Clothes

By Peter Teremu, Grade 5

Do you like expensive clothing? Well you're in luck because I got some clothes you can buy. If you like to play sports you will like these clothes. These clothes are for real champions. That is why you should buy Champion clothes.

My first reason is that Champion clothes are comfortable. The hard rubber helps you because if you fall then your pants will not get messed up and you will not get hurt. The strong cotton makes it comfortable for you and the hard layers will keep you warm.

My second reason is that I need more clothing. When you wash them they get smaller and they stretch up if you wash them.

My last reason is they are easy to take off because they don't have zippers or snaps on the shirts.

So dad please buy me some Champions I'm running out of clothing. They are easy to take off - no buttons, zippers, or snaps. You can make designs and your name on them.

VANS

By Chris Cruz Tapia, Grade 5

Do you like vans? Well you're in luck because I got some Vans.

My first reason is Vans are soft. They are soft because they don't give blisters. You can wear them everyday. Vans are not itchy because some shoes are itchy.

Another reason is they stay clean longer. There is a special spray to help them stay clean longer and you won't have to buy more shoes as often.

My last reason is when you go to the store they treat you nice. They say ours are you and they compliment you.

Now get your Vans. They will stay clean longer. You can wear them everyday. You can buy the shoes for the winter and they will keep your feet warm.

A Rainy Day

By Alberto Santamaria-Lopez, Grade 5

It is a rainy day
The day is such a boring day
Can't even go outside
It feels like i'm trapped in a cage.

Quarantine Dragon

By Kenzi Byas, Grade 5

Quarantine dragon please let me pass.
I am tired of sitting in the house, please let me pass.
Quarantine dragon please let me pass.

The Color Blue

By Burke Conners, Grade 5

Blue is the ocean

Blue is the sky

I put blueberries in my blueberry pie!

Blue can mean happy

Blue can mean sad

Blue can be boohoo

Blue can mean hungry

I just love the color blue !!!!!

Blueberry stew

Blueberry pie

Blueberries are not one to pass by!

Nikes

By Elijah Walters, Grade 5

Do you want my feet to be cold in the winter? Do you want my feet to freeze in the winter? I really need more Nike shoes. Lets go to Foot Locker.

My first reason is I am running out of shoes. My shoes are getting too small and my shoes are ripping apart.

Next, Nike shoes are soft and it comfortable. You can wear them everyday because they are soft.

The last reason is Nike shoes help you stay warm. When it's cold they are warm and when you are playing football they help you run and they won't fall off.

I really need Nike shoes because my other shoes are getting too small and do you want me to go to school with bare feet?

ANIME!

By Jovanni Garcia, Grade 5

I was walking one day and I saw a Portal. I tripped and fell into it. I saw ANIME characters. I saw Goku, Sonic, and Naruto first.

First I talked to Goku. He taught me to fly and KAMEHAMEHA. Then we went to Naruto.

Naruto taught me to jump high and thro kooni. We went to Sonic next.

Sonic taught me to run at the speed of sound. Then when we got back to earth the sun was about to explode.

Goku was moving the earth while Sonic & Naruto were grabbing everyone.

I helped Goku move the earth. The sun exploded but everyone got to the part of the earth that was not facing the sun. We moved the earth just in time.

Everyone was safe and everyone lived happily ever after.
