The Three Worms and a Trout by Quinn Kunkel 3rd Grade

There were 3 worms - the little worm, the normal worm and the BIG worm. They wanted to cross the bridge, but under the bridge there was water and in it there was a Trout. And if you went across the bridge, the Trout would jump out of the water and gobble you up whole. But the little worm went anyway and half way up the Trout jumped out of the water and swallowed the worm up whole. Then the normal worm made it all the way to the end of the bridge. He thought he was safe, but the Trout jumped out of the water and gobbled him up whole. But when the BIG worm came up, the trout jumped out of the water and the BIG worm grabbed the worms out and threw the Trout back in the water and the Trout never came back again. the end

Hiking

By Ellie Johnson, 3rd Grade

Have you ever been hiking before? It is really fun, but it hurts your legs a lot. You can hear lots of birds and other sounds of nature. You even see animals! You may discover waterfalls, streams, ponds, and other forms of water, lots of different types of trees, and sticks too!

I started hiking with my family and we traveled up and down a bumpy hill. We noticed a fallen tree. My cousins and I did not find our trip interesting at all so far. However, my sister and another cousin LOVED IT! My parents were enjoying it too along with my two uncles and aunts.

We were almost to the waterfall so we could take a break. My legs tired and stinging like a million bees poking me. I began to enjoy the hike a little more; however, I wanted a bench. I wanted to lie down and take a nap. I longed to be in my comfy bed.

I bought along a book to help me identify possible animals that I could discover. But I had no luck finding any. We continued to journey on to the waterfall. My legs hurt SO bad now! I could not wait to get there. There were a lot of tree roots making our journey even more difficult. Trees towered over us and my sister wanted to climb one, but I told her it would not be safe.

Finally, we made it to the waterfall, and it was SO COOL!!!! We weren't the only ones there. As I looked around, I noticed people painting and taking pictures. The waterfall was huge, and the water was blue. We took lots of pictures. My sister wanted to play on the rocks, but I wanted to eat lunch and so did the rest of my family. We enjoyed our lunch and time at the waterfall, and this made our hike worth it.

So, if you and your family are looking for a cool way to enjoy nature and the great outdoors consider taking a hike. You never know what you might discover.

Myrtle Beach

By Valentino Baxter, 3rd Grade

Where is your favorite place to go for vacation? Mine is Myrtle Beach. You can build sandcastles, ride carnival rides, and run freely.

One summer I went to Myrtle Beach. We were on a bus for a while. We left at 10:00 p.m. and got there at 7:00 in the morning. On the bus I got to watch a movie and sleep.

I was excited an when we got there, I raced from seat. We were finally going to the beach! But when we were walking, it started raining. I went to the pool, inside the hotel, until it stopped raining. I thought it would never stop because it kept starting and stopping.

Finally, the rain ended, and we went to the beach. We did the same thing on the second, third, fourth, and fifth day. On the sixth day we left. It was the best vacation ever!!!!

Getting a Pet Fish

By KyA'sia Bell-Sewell, 3rd Grade

After watching fireworks outside at Grandma's house, I ran inside to my mom to tell her, "I love you mom." She suddenly ran to my brother's and dad's bathroom and closed the door. She was planning a surprise, but I didn't know it at the time, and she didn't want me to see it.

After that, I went to my room where I noticed a mysterious box. I was confused. It had a note that read, "A wish is coming true for you," mmm, my mind begins to wonder..." can it be a dog, toy, or pet?" "Did you get me a pet?" I asked my mom after reading the note.

She said, "I don't know." She left the mystery hanging in thin air. She seemed to be looking at me weird. I am not sure why, but I don't have a good feeling about what's going on. My mind began to wonder. First, I think that maybe she was having a bad day, but I noticed she was smiling. I think she's happy. I was tired so I decided to take a nap for an hour.

Mom closed her door loudly. I woke up and tried to open the door, but it doesn't work. So, I go back to my room. I continued to wonder what was going on and I heard a tap, tap, tap. I was not sure what was causing the noise. I heard it two more times, but it was softer, so I think mom is tapping on the wall. So, I try to open the door again and again it does not open.

Mom finally opens the door, but only a little bit. I try to peek in the room. She opens the door completely. OMG, I see two fish. One blue and the other white in a beautiful fish tank. The best surprise

The Cursed Penny

By : Liam DeGurse , 3rd Grade

Bob attends Midway High. Bob was walking to school when he saw something shining on the ground. When he bent down to see what it was, it was a penny! It had landed on tails. Bob slipped the penny in his pocket. Bob's friends said, "He was cursed with bad luck because of the penny." Bob said

"No way!"

When Bob got to school he looked in his backpack and his homework wasn't there. When Bob's teacher asked where his homework was, Bob said, "at home". "That's extra homework," said Miss. Hun.

When Bob got to lunch he did not have any lunch money. In science the teacher caught Bob talking behind his back. The teacher gave him detention! After Bob served his one hour detention he started to walk home when.....Biff the bully popped out and pushed Bob over, then he ran away.

When Bob opened the door to his house, he heard crying. Bob remembered that he had a baby brother. Bob did not sleep that night. The next day when Bob got to school he remembered his homework when Bob looked in his backpack he saw his homework but....

It wasn't done! "Oh no "said Bob!

When Bob got into the classroom, Miss Hun said, "Where is your homework?"

He said "At home"

Miss.Hun gave Bob detention. At lunch Bif stole his lunch money!

"HEY GIVE ME IT BACK"! Yelled Bob.

In science Bob got in trouble. On the way home Bob saw a penny on the ground it had landed on heads. Bob slipped it in his pocket. The next day he turned in his homework. He ate his lunch. He had good luck.

Banana Bread by Quinn Kunkel

Today my mother and I made banana bread.
We put bananas in a bowl. We mooshed them and gooshed them.
The eggs, we cracked them and mixed them. We stirred them and smooshed them.
We put milk in and sprinkled cinnamon all around the edges.
We put oil into the bowl to make it moist.
We added flour to make it thick.
We added sugar to make it stick.
We put it in the pans.
And then we put in the oven to make it stiff.
When it was done we GOBBLED IT UP!

The Three Little Ants And The Big Bad Anteater

By: Chase Cooper 3rd Grade

Once upon a time there were three little ants and they were trying to build a home. Each ant built their own home. One ant went one foot down, the second ant went two feet down, the third ant went three feet down. A couple minutes after they were done making their houses, an anteater came along and said "Gimme some eggs so I can make a cake for my grandma or I'll put you in my cake". The first ant said "I'm too far down for you to eat me". And the anteater tried getting him out of his hole, and the first ant got eaten. The second ant said he didn't have any eggs, and he was too far down for the anteater to get him. So the anteater tried to get the ant out of his hole, and the anteater got him. The third ant said "I have eggs. I will give you the eggs if you can get me out of my hole". So the anteater tried and tried, until he was too tired. He stopped and went back to his home. But the third ant felt bad and told the anteater "I will give you the eggs". So the ant gave the anteater the eggs, and the anteater went to his house and made the cake. Once the anteater was done making the cake, the anteater gave the ant a piece of the cake and the cake was two years worth of food for the ant.

I reach for the sky I still have a lot to go,

Will I ever reach the sky?

Yes I will reach the sky!
I reach for the sky, I'm almost there,
I won't give up here, I'll keep climbing

The Monster Under my Bed By: Leo Lloyd Sloan Schulte

One night I was getting ready to be tucked into bed. This was my first time having a bedroom to myself so I don't have to be annoyed when I go to bed because of my siblings. I was getting ready, putting on my pajamas. I guess this was my 10th birthday present. I plopped into bed and turned out the lights. I started hearing sounds. I got scared and flicked the lights on. I never believed in monsters mainly because I was in a bedroom with my loud sisters to drown out the sound. But now that I hear the creeks and breaking branches sounds I knew there were such things as monsters. I looked outside my window and I became calm. Looking at the beautiful and peaceful nature from my window really helped me, but I started getting curious if there were such things as horrible and terrifying monsters that hide under innocent children's beds. I looked under my bed with a scared face and shot my arm through the blankets under the mattress in my own bedroom. With all the faith I had I wiggled my arm around trying to grab the guilty monster under my bed. But suddenly I felt a slimy and fuzzy loud breathing animal under the blankets of my mattress.

Suddenly I screamed, "Come out with your hands or whatever you have for touching in the air." And then I felt the monster start struggling to get out the grasp of my hand. I let go to see it. I waited and waited. And waited.

Gulp, "Hi? You there. I'm not scared of you." He did not come out. I went downstairs into my pantry to grab a cleaning broom to defend myself. Finally the monster crept out of the dark under my bed. It jumped out of my bed and at me.

"AHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH" I SCREAMED VICIOUSLY.

IT ROARED WITH A MIGHTY ROAR

"RRRRRRRRRRROOOOOOOOOOOOAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAARRRRRRRRRRR."

The broom flung out of my hand and out of my reach. I ran to the broom and pointed the end of the broom towards the blue, fuzzy, slimy, green eyed monster. Instead of poking it I threw the broom straight at the monster's face. And it talked?

"Hold on, hold on. *sigh.* Look I know I look all disgusting and scary but can we be friends?"

"Huh?" I was confused...

"Yeah just bed buddies."

"Sure!" I smiled.

"I can help you, protect you, and stuff." The monster sighed.

"I look forward to seeing you in the future." I smiled. I now slept perfectly without worrying about the friendly monster under my bed.

The Brave Bug

Karl Daniel, 3rd Grade

The green leaves were his favorite because they were so juicy. On Friday all the leaves were gone and all there was left was ashes! Suddenly he felt something hot on his back so he turned around and he saw fire!!! He watched the fire come closer and when it got too close he opened his wings and flew away. But he knew he couldn't do that every time. He was angry with himself for being so small and that he didn't grow any bigger. while he was lost in angry thoughts he didn't see the big tree branch in front of him but When he saw it, it was already too late! He still tried to turn around but instead of getting hit in the face he hit his wing and fell! He was certain he would die, but he landed on a leaf. At first he thought that he was dreaming but he wasn't. As he lay on the leaf everything got blurry. At first he thought that he was dizzy from the fall but when he rubbed his eyes everything was still blurry. And then he knew what it was, it was the fire. But suddenly he saw a small hole in the tree just his size. When he looked he noticed the fire would devour him in seconds!!! So he decided going in the hole was his best chance. So he desperately squeezed himself into the hole. As soon as he made it he immediately fainted. When he woke up the fire was gone, and now he was glad to be small.

The Three Little Girls and the Wicked, Wicked Witch

By: Brienne Lee, 3rd Grade

Once upon a time there were three girls. One was named Bethny the other was named Tethny and the last one was named Lethny. Their parents were going out so they had to get a babysitter. "Be good." The dad said, smiling. "We will." The girls said.

They walked up to the babysitter. The girls looked at each other and smiled. "Hi, I'm Kate." The babysitter said "Ahh! She has a beard! I'm going upstairs!" Lethny cried as she ran upstairs.

"What do you girls like to play with?" Kate asked.

"We like to play with dolls." The two girls said as they went to the toy box to get their dolls.

"Which one is your favorite doll?" Kate asked as she peered into the toy box. She thought she saw a million dolls in there!

"We like all of them." the two girls said at the same time.

"Can you girls go and get your sister for me?" Kate asked the girls.

"Ok." The girls went up to get Lethny. When they found Lethny, she was reading a book called, The Bearded Ladies. Lethny had learned that witches have beards!

"We need to pack." Lethny said to her sisters. "Why?" her sisters asked.

"Because this book says to get to a safe room and get things to survive a witch!"

"Ok..." her sisters responded.

"Do you want to lose happiness and love?" Lethny asked.

"No!" her sisters responded.

"Tethny, find a safe place to go. Bethny get food and water and I'll get clothes." Bethny and Lethny grabbed the stuff they needed and then Tethny took them to the safest rooms in their house. They waited for what felt like a year.

"How about we think of a way to defeat the witch ourselves?" Bethny asked.

"We could throw a party!" Tethny said with excitement.

"But who will we invite?" The sisters asked.

"Our friends!" Lethny said. They went to get the stuff for their party. Then they went down the steps quietly so if the witch was downstairs, she wouldn't hear them. She wasn't in the living room so they guessed that she was using the bathroom. They started setting up the party. When they were done, they invited their friends over. Then they called the witch down for the party. She got stuck in the middle of the crowd and her eyes got big. After a few minutes, the witch got so overwhelmed that her disguise vanished!

Then the witch ran away for good and the three sisters lived happily ever after!

Sunerella

By: Hayden Martinez, 3rd Grade

One dark cold night in space, Sunerella was getting bossed around by her stepmoon and was cleaning the whole house. Every day Sunerella wished to be the princess of the universe and rule all the planets. She also wished to marry the prince of the universe. "Sunerella make lunch. I am starving!" her stepmoon replied. So Sunerella had to go to the kitchen and cook. She cooked a really big turkey alien. She went up to her bed and took a nap for a really long time, over two hours. Then her stepmoon woke her up and got mad for sleeping on the job. The stepmoon gave her extra work to do. She was looking at the castle half of the time. That night she slept well.

The next morning the mailman came. The stepmoon opened it and it said, 'Come one come all to the ball' From, The Prince. The stepmoon said to Sunerella, "You are not going."

That night the stepmoon set off. Then a fairy Jupiter came. "I see you want to go to the ball." said fairy Jupiter. "You can!" POOF!

"Thank you!" Sunerella said.

"You can only be there until 12:00 and the spell will break." the fairy Jupiter said. Once Sunerella was there, she found the prince and started to do a dance. "Ding dong!" She ran home and lost her shoe.

The prince came to give her the shoe back and asked to marry her. She said yes and lived happily ever after.

My Friends Coming Over

By Tommy Bolt, 3rd Grade

On a snow day in December, Nalia and Sebastian came over to my house. They came over for a sleepover. I was so happy that they came over. My plan was to play a game, eat and sleep. The game we played was called Super Smash Bros. Ultimate. I was Terry, Nalia was Peach, and Sebastian was Ike. I selected a level. It was my favorite level. I guess I should ask my friend what they play, I thought. Sebastian lost the game. He was angry because he was in 3rd place. Sebastian was watching our battle. Nalia and I were still in the game. I was at 0% and Nalia was at 100% in the game. I got a point, and she respawned. She was at 0% now. She hit me, I was at 21%. I hit her back. I hit her back again, and she was at 178%. I hit her again, and I won! She was so happy for me that she yelled "Hooray!". I had 10 KO's, Nalia had 8 KO's, and Sebastian had 0 KO's. Sebastian was still angry about being in 3rd place. I told Sebastian a joke. He laughed and was happy. It was time for dinner. We had pizza; cheese and pepperoni. We started to eat. It was time for bed and we slept in my bed. In the morning Nalia and Sebastian had to leave. Their mom and dad came to pick them up. I sad "Bye Nalia, bye Sebastian!". It was the best. The end.

The Worst Day of My Life

By Casey Blackwell, 3rd Grade

Hi, my name is Katelin. Yesterday was the worst day of my life. My dog died. Not only was he my friend, he was my only friend. It's even worse because it was my birthday. Let me tell you my story. Yesterday when I woke up I noticed my dog wasn't very active. My parents told me he wasn't feeling very well. I got a little worried. At least my mom didn't have work today so she can take care of him. I got ready and my mom took me to school. During lunch when I was passing out cupcakes the principal came in. She told me to follow her. I was scared, was I in trouble? I was also confused because I knew I didn't do anything wrong. When we got to the office she said I had a phone call. Then I thought it couldn't be that bad. So I answered the phone. It was my mom. She said my dog was in the hospital. I was speechless. Then I started to cry. I've never felt so miserable in my whole entire life. The principal asked what was wrong. I told her my dog was in the hospital. She felt sorry for me. Later that day my dad picked me up from school. Even though it was my birthday I wasn't too excited. My dad said we were going to the hospital where my dog was. I felt like he was trying to make me feel worse. When we got there I saw him lying there on a table. My mom saw me starting to cry again. My mom told me to forget about what was happening and try to think of something good that could happen. A second later I heard a noise. Beep. That noise meant he was gone. For the last time, I felt his soft fur. I burst into tears. I think what my mom said wasn't working. Right after my mom left. I wondered where she went. My dad took me home and I saw my mom's car in the driveway. Maybe she was too sad to stay. When I walked in I didn't see any presents, but I saw my mom holding a box. Was it my present? Then I thought, since my dog died and my only present is a box, today was definitely the worst day of my life. My mom and dad told me to open it, so I grabbed the box and started to open it. I gasped. It was...a dog! He reminded me of my last dog, and his name was Albert. I said, "Even though you're not just like Albert I love you just as much as I loved Albert. I thought maybe it wasn't the worst day after all.

The Essay

By Claire Pattee, 3rd Grade

One day, a girl named Sasha was at school with all her classmates. They were all given the same task. They needed to make an essay about themselves, then share it to the class. Sasha asked so many questions about the essay, which was fine, but she asked too many questions. Her first question she asked dramatically, "Do we have to share it with the class?" Her teacher answered, "That's optional, but if you want the class to learn cool things about you, you might as well share it."

When Sasha got home she tried asking her parents some questions about her, but they were busy. They both said maybe later. Meanwhile, Sasha tried researching about herself in the picture books her parents made for her. After talking with her parents and reading most of the picture books, she finally decided to write about the time she broke her leg in soccer.

The next morning Sasha started writing her essay. It took her 2 hours to write her essay. She thought she was going to get a B-, but at least she knew she worked hard on it. When she was finished she put it on the kitchen table. At dinner time her parents asked about her essay. "So, how did you do with your essay?", they asked. "Um, fine." Sasha said. "Can we read it?", her parents asked again.

"Wait!", said Sasha. "Where's my essay?" "Oh. Um, I think I took it off the table before setting it, but I forgot where I put it.", said Sasha's mother. "School is in two days!", said Sasha. "If I don't have it in two days, I will be doomed!" Sasha ran upstairs to start looking for her essay.

Sasha had no luck at all! For some weird reason it started getting cold. The whole entire house felt cold. So Sasha put on her sweatshirt and went to bed with a warm and heavy blanket. Something felt odd about her sweatshirt.

The next day Sasha had school. Sasha had not found her essay yet, so Sasha had to go without one. It was 37 degrees outside so Sasha got on her sweatshirt and her coat. After she got her shoes on she said "Goodbye!" and ran to the bus. There she saw her best friend Cloey and sat next to her in the 3rd row from the back.

When Sasha got to school, she decided not to mention to anyone that she had lost her essay. Her teacher asked what her essay was about. Sasha said it was about when she broke her leg in a soccer game. Then her teacher asked, "Can I read it now?" "I want to make it a surprise!", said Sasha. "So you're sharing it with the class?", said her teacher Mrs. Shea. "Um, maybe." said Sasha.

When it was time to share our essays, Mrs. Shea called on Sasha first. She got nervous so she asked, "Can I get my sweatshirt before sharing?" "Why of course, Kevin can go first.", replied Mrs. Shea. Sasha ran as quickly as she could cause when she gets a scared feeling she's usually cold. When Sasha got back to her seat her teacher called on her. Sasha put her hands in her pockets and walked to the front of her classroom. Then she realized something about her pocket...

It was her essay! "Thank goodness!" said Sasha. She thought it was odd her mom put it in her sweatshirt, but at the same time she thought it was smart.

"Are you ready to share Sasha?", asked Mrs. Shea. "Of course." said Sasha. After 7 minutes of fame she had finished. Out of everyone, she got the loudest claps of all!

Sydney and Kaity

By: Daniella Bernaola, 3rd Grade

On a rainy Friday, two 9-year olds were playing soccer at recess. They would play every day. One of the girls was named Sydney. She had light brown skin, long black hair, and light brown eyes. The other girl was named Kaity. She had pale skin and blonde hair and green eyes. Sydney was older than Kaity by a month and Sydney was taller. And when it came to being athletic, it was always Kaity who was more flexible and athletic. She could do the splits and an aerial. But Kaity could be pretty sassy sometimes. Sydney, on the other hand, was really smart. She was not as flexible, but she could do a cartwheel. Sydney was happy most of the time.

That day, they were playing soccer. Sydney started the game and Kaity was doing cartwheels. Sydney said, "goal!" Kaity looked at Sydney and gasped.

"That's not fair!" Kaity said in a sassy voice.

"Yes, it is." Sydney said

"No, it's not!" said Kaity.

"It is fair." Sydney said. "You weren't paying attention. You were just doing cartwheels."

"Well, if you're starting the game, at least tell me." said Kaity in a smart mouth voice. Then Sydney started walking away to go tell the teacher, Ms. Carling. As she was kicking her soccer ball, Kaity "I'm still telling on you." said Sydney. She saw the teacher and she ran to Ms. Carling. When she got to her, she said, "Kaity threw a stick at my leg and she was being so, so bold to me."

"Go get Kaity, please." said the teacher.

"Ms. Carling needs you" Sydney told Kaity.

"So, what happened?" asked Ms. Carling. Sydney started explaining.

"I was playing soccer with Kaity and I did something and Kaity yelled, 'you can't do that!' and I said I could because it's my ball and she said it's hers, too and she was being very sassy." said Sydney. Ms. Carling looked disappointed.

Later the classes go inside and Sydney and Kaity see Ms. Carling on the phone and Sydney and Kaity get very worried. Then, Ms. Carling said, "Sydney, Kaity, your parents are coming to pick you up. You may head to the office.

"Okay." said Sydney and Kaity.

Both girls go home. Sydney said hi to her mom and her mom said, "Come with me, Sydney."

"Okay." Sydney said. They walked to Kaity's house and Sydney's mom said,

"Go say sorry!"

"Okay..." Sydney said. She knocked on the door and Kaity opened it. Sydney said, "I'm sorry."

"I'm sorry, too." Kaity said. They hug and are friends again.

The Chocolate Mess

By: Vanessa Fairbank, 3rd Grade

One time there was a boy and girl named Cody and Michelle. Cody was ten years old and Michelle was eight years old. One day they woke up at 6:00am to watch T.V. They watched the news for thirty minutes. "I'm hungry. Let's go ask the parents for a snack." said Cody.

"Okay," said Michelle. They walked upstairs to ask their parents for a snack. But they walked up the stairs hearing snoring from their parents, assuming they were asleep. So they walked back down the stairs and walked into the kitchen and they saw so many chocolate bars on the counter. "Is that what I think it is?" asked Cody.

"What do you think it is?" asked Michelle.

"I think it is... chocolate!!!"

"Wow, that was a little loud, Cody"

"Should we eat it?"

"No," said Michelle.

"But why?"

"Because it's not ours."

"Michelle, we can eat the chocolate bars but we'll pretend that we put them away so then the parents won't see."

"Great idea, Cody!" Michelle replied. So, the kids grabbed all the chocolate and brought it into the bathroom and ate the chocolate. When they were done eating the eleven chocolate bars they went back into the living room and relaxed on the couch for a while until Michelle licked her lips and they tasted like chocolate. "I taste chocolate." Michelle said.

"Well, go look in the mirror." Cody told her. Michelle went to the bathroom and looked at herself.

"Um... I think we should clean our faces off." Michelle said. They both grabbed their mom's favorite towel and put water on it and wiped their faces with it. "Uh oh, we're in trouble!" They said when they saw the stains on the towel. They threw it away and looked for the spare towel in the closet but it wasn't there so they grabbed one that looked like it and put it in the bathroom. "Perfect!" they said.

A while later, the kids' mom went to the bathroom. She came out and asked the kids' Dad, "Honey, where's my favorite towel?"

"I don't know." he said. "Check with the kids."

"Ok." she said. "Kids! Do you know where my favorite towel is?"

"Ummm..." said Cody and Michelle.

Terrific Third Grader Selections

"Tell me the truth." the kids' mom said.

"Yes. We know where the towel is." the kids said.

"Where is the actual towel?" the kids' mom asked.

"In the trash" they said.

"Really?" she questioned.

"Yeah, Mom. You told us to tell the truth." the kids said.

"Okay. You're going to get a punishment. Let me think about it." the kids' mom said. Michelle and Cody thought about what they could do to make it up to their mom because they thought their mom might take away TV for a month.

"I think we should do chores to get money from Dad to buy a new towel just like the one we ruined." said Michelle. So Cody and Michelle took the trash out and cleaned their rooms and washed the clothes and washed the bathrooms and they each got fifteen dollars so they could buy the thirty dollar towel. It was close to Mother's Day so they made a little box out of paper. Then they put the new towel in the box. Michelle said to Cody, "Cody, it's Mother's Day. Let's give Mom the present... Oh yeah I forgot! We need to give Mom a card." So the kids wrote a card and drew a picture of her favorite towel. Then they made her breakfast in bed and gave her the present.

"Oh my gosh!" said the kids' mom.

"Open the box!" said the kids.

"You are the best children ever!" the kids' mom said. Then their mom put the new towel on display and their mom never forgot that day.

By: Abby Dougherty, 3rd Grade

One fine day Abby, Emma, Kaleb, and Miah were playing outside and Abby thought of an idea. She told the kids they should do a prank. The kids' mom and dad came out and the kids were looking at their parents very mysteriously. Then Miah put up her hands and it looked like she was getting revenge. Then Abby, Emma, and Kaleb started to do the same thing. Then their faces were squished and then they went back in but they were running. Then all the kids went back in and started to do a creepy smile. Then they started to run up the stairs. The kids were actually getting ready to do a prank on their mom and dad. So then they had dinner and Abby, Emma, Kaleb, and Miah started to move their heads from side to side and they made creepy smiles. They ate dinner upstairs but stopped when their mom and dad left. Then it was nighttime...The kids put on their Halloween creepy suits. Emma and Miah helped Kaleb put on his clown suit. His costume was so scary that it even scared Miah. She said, "I am never going to forget this day." Then the kids all got in their places and turned on the creepy music. The kids' parents woke up because they heard the creepy music. Then they got out of bed. Abby, Emma, and Miah got behind them. When they got to the living room Abby, Emma, and Miah said,

"Five, four, three, two, one..." quietly. Then...

They said, "Happy Halloween Mom and Dad!" then they jumped up and got pretty high from the ground. But then their parents turned around and they were so scared that when they turned around they were shivering. The kids were laughing so hard that their stomachs started to hurt. They stopped laughing but were still giggling. Then their parents got mad and said,

"Why would you scare us that hard? We thought that someone broke into the house!" Then Kaleb walked very quietly and put on his clown mask. He said,

"Hello!" in a very dark, creepy voice. Their parents turned around and they screamed so loud that they ran up the stairs. The kids started to laugh and then their parents came back down and they were shivering and hugging tight. They were walking slowly down the stairs. But then they started to run and take off Kaleb's mask. Then they got really mad. So they said,

"Why, why would you scare us so bad? I did not like that, not one bit." Then all the kids said they were all sorry and they would do anything but asked their parents not to take their tablets away. At the same time the kids were so happy that they did the trick. It was funny and they loved the way that they jumped and it is a relief they didn't get too upset. The kids thought maybe one day their parents might do a prank on them. But they might not. Abby said she will never forget this prank but Kaleb and Emma thought they would forget. Miah agreed with Abby that she would never forget and that maybe their parents might do a prank to them.

Once my mom was on a call for work and before she was on the call she said, "I know you guys can be good. So please please be good. I am on an important work call". When my mom was on the work call she thought, "Wow! My kids are being so good and quiet!" When she was on the call me and Addi got loads and loads of glitter and we found it all over the house. It was so hard to sneak past mom with the glitter but we did. Then we went back to mom's office and threw the glitter for minutes on end. It got all over us, mom's desk, and in the vent. We were having so so much fun but then mom came. She was not happy at all. She made us clean the whole place and even worse she video taped us! That glitter is still in our hair and in the office. Then we took a shower and we went to a nice place to eat.

We learned our lesson: Listen to mom when she tells us to behave.

Once there was a boy named Jack. He lived in Mexico with his parents in a small house. But one day, he moved to a new house and school! Jack was shy and he didn't want to move. He liked his school and small house, but he let his parents do it. He got to his new house. It was big, the town was small, and his yard was huge. Unlike his old house, there were no floods here.

I used to like school until I went to Dogwood and a bully came up to me and said, "You do not fit in" and every person said that. My eyes started watering. When it was the end of school, my mom came to pick me up. I told my mom what happened at school today. She told my teacher then we went back home, and I went straight up to my bedroom to see my new dog named Billy Duck. I thought about the people who said I don't fit in.

The next day, there was a new kid named KC. He was new but fit in. Even if he went to Terraset Elementary School, I was so mad and sad that I wanted to go home and hug my dog. But, I learned that just because you don't fit in doesn't mean that you're not loved.

So, I had a talk with this boy and he said, "Can I be your friend?" I said yes and when he was my friend, people started to be my friend and I fit in and now I am happy.

There was one girl putting her head down at the time out table. Mia went over there. "Will you be my friend?" she asked. "No" said the other girl. Then Gina tripped Mia. She fell on her face. Everyone laughed. Gina laughed the hardest.

Then a new girl came into the class. "Your haircut is so ugly!" said Gina. She started to cry. "Will you be my friend?" Mia asked. "Yes" said the new girl. The girl's name was Laura. "I think your haircut is cute." Said Mia. Gina looked sorry, " I regret this!" Gina thought. "I'm so sorry" Gina said to Mia. "I forgive you.". Said Mia. ### Missing Kids

By: Zein Tohme, 3rd Grade

There once was a family with one daughter and one son. Their names were Ben and Pica. Ben was the boy and Pica was the girl. Ben was 7 years old and Pica was 4 years old. Pica and Ben were sleeping next to each other in the bedroom. They woke up at 7:00am and sneaked from the bedroom to the bathroom downstairs.

Pica and Ben walked to the bathroom slowly so they didn't make noises. They went inside the bathroom. After they got in, Pica locked the door and Ben was confused.

Their parents woke up at 10:00am. They walked slowly to the bedroom. They thought the kids were sleeping and they went to Ben and Pica's bedroom to see them. When they went they did not find them. They were sad. They went downstairs to see if Ben and Pica were downstairs. They went to the kitchen because the kids liked to eat a lot. They went to the living room because the kids like to eat while they are watching TV. The parents went everywhere but they did not find Ben and Pica. They were trying to find the kids for two hours. When it was 1pm they stopped looking in the house. They went out of the house to see if the kids were there in the neighborhood. They even went to their friends' house. They checked every single thing outside. They went to the mall, gas station, and every food place. They went back home.

When the parents unlocked the door to the house Pica and Ben heard and they were scared. They shouted, "Mom! Dad!" They did not know that it was their parents. Their parents froze.

"Did that come from the bathroom?" their mom whispered. They walked to the bathroom slowly. They tried to open the door and then they said,

"Show yourself! Open the door!"

"It's LOCKED!" Ben and Pica shouted. The kids were panicking. Eventually, Ben figured out how to unlock the door. He put his hands over his eyes. The kids parents shouted,

"Ben! Pica!" Ben and Pica removed their hands from their eyes. They saw their parents. Ben and Pica shouted,

"Mom! Dad!" They gave their parents a big hug.

"We were worried!" their parents said. "When you wake up, you wake us up."

"Okay." They said. Then Ben and Pica went outside to have fun.

Dog Attack

By: Ozzie Smith, 3rd Grade

Once upon a time there was a boy named Jack. Jack was sitting on the couch at home. He was addicted to the TV. Then his dad came in. "Time to do some chores." Dad said.

"Awwwwww!" Jack whined. Dad said,

"Landon, vacuum the family room and Jack, spray the dog poop off the deck."

"Please don't make me do the deck! That's the worst job!" screamed Jack.

"Don't argue with me!" screamed Dad. "Now, please do your chores." Jack was furious.

"Fine!" Jack screamed. Jack turned off the TV and approached the deck. Landon just kept vacuuming as Dad watched him.

Jack went outside to spray the poop off the deck. Jack picked up the sprayer and turned it on full power to get it done. He went from poop to poop to poop spraying off the deck. Jack was totally grossed out.

Then, Landon let Georgia out because she was barking at the vacuum. Georgia sniffed around a lot. Pretty soon Georgia was sniffing the sprayer. Then, for some strange reason, Georgia started biting Jack. "NO!!" Screamed Jack. Georgia kept biting. Soon, Jack dropped the sprayer and ran to the door. Jack was so scared.

The door wouldn't open! Jack started banging on the glass door and he was sobbing. Then Jack saw Landon looking at Jack as Jack was getting jumped on, but Landon didn't do anything!! "Landon! OPEN THE DOOR!!!" Jack screamed. But Landon still didn't do anything. Jack was thinking, "Why won't Landon open the door?" Finally, Mom and Dad heard Jack yelling and came running to the deck and opened the door. "I was so scared, Mom." said Jack.

"It is okay." said Mom. Dad put the dog in her crate.

"My scratches really hurt." Jack said.

"How about this, you can do your chores tomorrow." said Mom.

"Okay." said Jack. Mom had a talk with Landon. Jack didn't hear anything besides yelling.

The Big Carpet Spill

By: Joyce Sigha Ngakam, 3rd Grade

One day I was having a sleepover for the first time! I already gave all the invitations. At 5:33pm all the kids I invited came. So there was this girl called Felizia. She had blonde hair, braces, and glasses. Also Felizia was clumsy but nice. Felizia and I were going to have a picnic so we passed the computer room and got a blanket that looked striped red, white, and black. Then me and Felizia went to the kitchen to get some food for the picnic. So I took my striped blanket and laid it flat in my lawn. The grass was grayish-green and the sun was shining. We were relaxing and eating and getting tan. We ate and drank warm bubbly, bubbly water, cake, fried, hamburgers, sandwiches, avocados, caramel cubes, chips, and ice cream. We only ate a bit so we cleaned up and went inside.

After that, the dishes got washed while we sang. Bang! Bang! Then we went to the computer room and it was filled with technology and interesting facts. Felizia was amazed. Felizia's mouth opened wide and a drip of saliva/spit came out. Then, before I could tell her she could come in, she dashed in and started exploring the computer room until she was satisfied. She looked at all the broken and fixed electronics. She was filled with joy and excitement. "Now, now, don't get excited yet. Turn around" I said. So Felizia turned around. She looked at the golden iPhone case and looked at the three iPhone 11s and she screamed. "I bet that was a joy scream!" I said. So we each took one phone and case to play with. Felizia got the golden gase and I got majestic blue. There was one phone left so we called Maggie. She came over and had her iPhone herself. So we played Roblox together. We also played Bubblegum Sim.

"I'm hungry!" I said. "Let's go sneak and look in the freezer..." So we went downstairs and opened the freezer. We found caramel ice cream. We ate ice cream and it was delicious. Suddenly, Felizia accidentally made a spill. The ice cream fell on my nice flower indigo table sheet and some slipped onto the floor. "Mom! Dad! Can you please help?!" I yelled. They come in through the white door.

"What are you guys eating?" my dad asked. "I want to eat some!"

"Oh, Dad!" I said. "Come on, Dad, there is no time for ice cream. We have to focus. Look, there's a bunch of ice cream!" More and more spilled on the very light, delicate red carpet. Insead of light red, dark red appeared. We were really scared. We kept on thinking and thinking. "Come on, Dad. We have to clean this up!" I said. Maggie tried to help, but it didn't work. She tried shaking the rug and the air hit the ice cream and it went into Felizia's mouth. "We have to clean this up! Come on!" I said to everyone.

We tried to clean up the mess with my favorite juice, cranberry but it made such a big problem! It looked redder than usual. We were about to throw a terrific birthday party but couldn't with this dilemma! "What are we going to do?" I shouted. "I'm throwing a party in five minutes and everything has to be fabulous!" Maggie wasn't listening. She was reading an autobiography.

Suddenly, Dad thought of an idea. "Let's go shopping and buy a new red carpet for your birthday. I know it costs $1,000.45 but it's only for you, honey. It's your birthday!" he said.

"Oh, thank you so much, Dad!" I said. So, we bought spill remover and sold the old carpet. We got enough money to get a new red carpet. We realized when we work together, everything gets better. The carpet mess was all cleaned up. All foods were cooked and enjoyed. Even though Maggie had to leave early, at least she's a smarty pants from reading the autobiography. I had the best sleepover ever!

The Scary Night

By: Lara Caceres, 3rd Grade

One night, Lily and her dad were watching a movie. It was called, The Healing Powers of Dude. "Do you like this movie?" asked Lily.

"Sure," said Dad.

After the movie, Lily was asleep on the couch. A while later a breeze woke her up. "I will be fine down here." Lily said. Buuuut the truth was, she was scared. "Dang it! I'm not OK," she whispered. "No one knows what happens in the dark. I guess I have to sleep in here," she thought. She was scared but all she could do was sleep. "Bummer in the summer," she thought. "I'm boored," Lily whispered. She always had bad luck.

"RRRRgggghh!" Lily heard.

"What was that?" She wondered. She got more and more scared. "I wish I never slept down here." she whispered. "I hope it was Mom snoring," Lily mumbled.

"RRrrrrrgggar! Bang! Bang!" she heard again.

"That is not Mom snoring!" she said a little loudly. "Oopsie Daisies!" she whispered, hiding under a blanket.

Then the lights in the backyard turned on. "Oh, no, the lights!" She got up... walked... toward... the... window... door.

Lily finally got to the sliding glass door. Her eyes were still closed. Now she was really, really scared at this point. "Oh, no. Oh, no!" she thought. She... opened... the... door... the lights were still on. She... opened... her... eyes!!! "OMG!" she said. She was so, so, so, so surprised "Eww!" she said. "It stinks!"

It was a raccoon!!!! "That's why it's P-U!" she said. "I'm going back inside, now." she thought. "I'm going to sleep," she whispered. She forgot about the raccoon and he rested her eyes and... fell... asleep.

Once in a valley called Dog Land, there was a beautiful house. In the house there were four dogs. One was Dogrella. She had to work all day. She had two stepsisters and a stepmom. Dogrella had to clean the whole house.

One day, her stepsisters and her stepmom got an invitation to a ball. Dogrella couldn't go to the ball because her stepsisters and stepmom left and Dogrella had to do all the housework. She cried and cried until her fairy dogmother came. The fairy dogmother told Dogrella that she was going to the ball. Dogrella froze and the fairy dogmother made Dogrella as fantastic as a princess. She walked outside and two horses were there. She hopped on and went off.

Dogrella ran out crying. One of her high heels fell off but she did not feel it and she ran off home. The dog prince ran to find Dogrella. He did not find Dogrella but he found a high heel.

The next day, he went from house to house and came to Dogrella's house first. First, the stepsisters and the stepmom tried it but it did not fit. It did fit Dogrella and Dogrella and the dog prince got married.

The Night

By: Kelvin Arias, 3rd grade

One day at 10:00pm DJ was sleeping in his room. He was starting to get hungry. DJ said, "Mmmm... I think my mom still has her cookies. Let me go check."

Squeak! DJ went downstairs. DJ was thinking about the chocolate chip cookies. He thought that his mom was making popcorn or maybe his dad. "Wait, no." DJ said. "I hear my dad snoring. Mom? Dad?"

DJ went to the kitchen.

Chomp!

"Mom? Are you there?" DJ asked.

Woof! Woof!

Kelvin the dog was standing on the table. "Kelvin! It is dangerous!" DJ said. "Get DOWN! Sorry, I just didn't want you to get hurt. Come on, let's get a snack." When DJ got his snack, he went upstairs and ate it. "Come on, let's go to sleep." DJ thought.

Drum Tips

By: Thane Howard, 3rd Grade

How to Get Good

Make the original beat. Practice for one hour. (Shell brand is good and recommended.)

Add beats to the original beat and it will sound better.

Start making songs and creating names.

You're done!

How to Make Sounds

First, hit the symbol with your hitting thing and a high pitched sound will appear.

Again with your hitting stick, hit the side of your drum kit thing.

With both of your hitting things (again, 1 and 2.) Both sounds will appear.

My Drum Setup

I have a piano behind it. When my drums are broken I can play the piano.

Different Drum Things

Symbols make a sound that is high pitched and popular, I'm pretty sure.

Symbols make a sound that ends long.

Bass drum is a low-sounded drum made for tube songs, that's my opinion.

What I Do

I always just naturally play songs. I don't name them but sometimes like 17% of the time, I do. I just moved my piano and drum stuff a little. I have made like five songs in my lifetime.

Comparing Kid Drums and Teen Drums

Kid drums sound bad. They are small and make quiet sounds.

Teen drums sound good. They are big and make louder sounds.

Both kid drums and teen drums are both drums and they can both be used to make songs.

Little Kid Drum Kit

I have never played a little kid drum kit, but I saw one. They have a little snare, little bongos, and a little high pitched thing.

All About Christmas

By: Melody Mejia Jovel, 3rd Grade

Presents

Presents are a kind of gift that other people give to someone else. In a present, there are toys or technology. Sometimes you do not get what you want. Some of the time you may want a new game or a toy.

Christmas Trees

The point can keep the star. On the branches go the Christmas decorations. The tree has a trunk at the bottom.

Christmas trees are sometimes fake or sometimes they are the real ones that come from the forest. Fake trees can go in the trunk of your car. Real ones go on cars or trucks. They both go to the house.

Christmas Decorations

The first kind of decoration is red. There is also a blue one and a green one and a gold one.

How to Decorate a Christmas Tree

First, you get a Christmas tree and decorations and Christmas lights.

Then, you go home and get it out of where you have it and you choose the things that you are going to use.

After that, you decorate the Christmas tree with things.

Christmas Star

It is a star with a holder on the bottom. The holder makes the star stay on the Christmas tree. The star on the Christmas tree represents the star that was up top of Jesus.

Christmas Bow

Christmas bows are ribbons tied in bows with a hanger on the top. They hang on a branch of the Christmas tree.

What Christmas is All About

Christmas is about family, the birth of Jesus, and the Holy Family. People love Christmas because of the presents and family but the most important reason to love Christmas is because of Jesus.

Lilia and Faris

By: Lilia Boulghassoul, 3rd Grade

Once upon a time there was a cottage with a family of four. Their names were Lema, Younes, Faris, and Lilia. One day, Lilia and Faris went on a walk in the woods. Their dad said, "Don't get lost in the woods."

"Okay!" they said, skipping away with not a care in the world. Meanwhile, the birds and the squirrels nearby were in an argument in another story.

After a little while, the kids got lost! But Lilia smelled something good like gingerbread. Faris followed his sister to a CANDY HOUSE!

A little old woman walked out and asked the kids, "Would you like to come in?" She used a nurturing and kind voice. Faris said,

"Come on, Sis! And there are free cookies!"

"No!" Lilia said. "Stranger danger!"

"Oh, well." Faris said and ran in! When Faris ran into the candy house, a cage fell on him and a chain got on him and Lilia! The kind woman turned into an ugly, rotten, witch! She was a mutant! So she had 11 arms. Lilia said,

"I told you so, you owe me one dollar for that bet we had!" While the witch was chopping a creature, Lilia got an idea and got working. She got one eye, two tentacles, and a vile to put the potion in. Faris was still in the cage that fell on him.

After Lilia finished making the potion, she poured it on the chain holding her. The chain came off! Lilia had already made a plan to save her brother while the witch was busy with a talking plant.

Once Lilia was free, her plan was in motion. She picked the lock to free him. The lock was loud, but the witch didn't hear Lilia while she was picking the lock to save Faris.

When Faris was free, he punched the witch's nose! She fell on the wooden table and broke her back! Her nose was so small! Lilia kicked the locked door and it opened! Lilia said, "Let's go!"

"Okay!" said Faris as they ran out of the cottage. Lilia grabbed a gem and Faris grabbed a jewel. In the rush to get home, Lilia dropped her gem but Faris still had the jewel. He ran with his sister all the way home. They were so tired because it was night. The witch was never seen again
